

How Do People Die?

Everybody's life has a beginning, a middle and an end.

There are many reasons why people die.

Some people die from an illness.

Their bodies get very sick.

Doctors try to make them better.

Sometimes their bodies are so sick that medicine can't help them anymore.

Their bodies stop working and they die.

Some people die suddenly, such as an accident.

Sometimes people die when they are old. But sometimes, younger people die too.

Everybody's life has a beginning, a middle and an end.

It is ok to have questions about how people die.
